ALLOWANCE

- 1> This action is in response to Applicant's request for continued examination. Claims 1 and 15 are amended. Claims 1-15 and 18-20 are presented for further examination.
- 2> Claims 1-15 and 18-20 are allowed.

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

- 3> A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 1.25.2008 has been entered.

Allowable Subject Matter

- 4> The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Applicant has amended the independent claims to now recite, inter alia, associating at least one prefix and at least one suffix with a geographic location of the mobile device. This amendment elevates the claims over the prior art because the prior art only teaches predictively displaying possible items based on a partial entry of a user input and adding automatically adding a prefix and suffix to the user input. For example, the prior art teaches automatically appending a "WWW" and ".com" to a user input to complete a web address [see Dickleman, U.S. Patent No. 6,529,187, column 2 «lines 50-56»].

However, the prior art does not teach or suggest associating the prefix and suffix with a geographic location of the mobile device. The prior art does disclose associating a suffix with a location input by a user into a web page (such as a zip code) [see Schneider, U.S. Patent No. 7.136.932, column 28 «lines 17-33», teaching that a user input zip code can be associated with a prefix ".us"]. But this does not read on Applicant's claim which recites associating both a prefix and a suffix with a geographic location of a mobile device. Since the prior art did not expressly teach or even suggest this feature, it would not have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have modified the cited prior art with the claimed feature. Therefore, Applicant's claims are now in condition for allowance.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
